

N.O.W

NOW – New Opportunities for Women is a transnational network from the UK, Cyprus, Ireland, Greece, France, Spain, Iceland, and Portugal.

Our focus is to develop a mentoring and training programme that will support all women, especially migrant women, to develop the confidence and skills needed to achieve their aspirations.

This project not only focuses on women but also aims to provide men with knowledge and skills that they can use to support women. A key element of this project is to consider 'leadership' in its widest sense, for example thinking of leadership as an essential soft skill which promotes confidence, assertiveness and taking ownership of one's personal and professional development and to pro-actively seek out opportunities.

One last step to start a new path

Starting October 2019, the eight partners started walking the NOW path aiming to develop interesting and innovative materials to support the female leadership.

During this path, partners were hit by the pandemic and its consequences, stopping the world and how we perceive it. That didn't stop us though. Our partners have worked virtually to write, test deliver and approve the materials and at the end of the month, the consortium will take a final step: meeting face to face in Reykjavik (Iceland) to close the project's life cycle. This isn't the end - NOW wants to remain sustainable as a path for women's leadership going forward.

Follow the NOW path: Join the Community of Practice and our MOOC!

The 8 NOW partners have co-designed a free range of materials and resources that will support all women (especially migrant women). We have also launched our Community of Practice (CoP) via LinkedIn, hear experts from across the 8 countries share their views and provide tools and techniques. Both our MOOC and CoP enables us to continue our work long after the project lifecycle but also ensures that we reach as wide an audience as possible
